Kim Langelaar

Professional Mediator

Meet Kim, a skilled and experienced Mediator with a passion for conflict resolution. With over 13 years of experience in the field, her extensive knowledge and expertise make her the perfect fit for your mediation.

Kim's background in real estate, finance, mortgage, and negotiations gives her a comprehensive understanding of the multiple dimensions of dispute resolution. Her ability to manage high-stress situations with ease and help parties reach mutually beneficial solutions is what sets her apart.

As a previous High Conflict Diversion Program Instructor, Kim has successfully guided individuals through understanding and managing their emotions. She completed 40 hours of Domestic Relations Mediation Training in 2010 and has experience as a Divorce Financial Analyst, making her well-prepared for any mediation scenario.

Aside from her expertise, Kim is technologically savvy. She has been utilizing online mediation platforms like Zoom for the past three years in her private practice.

Furthermore, being trained in disc assessment and working as a coach with Success Coaching has greatly enhanced her understanding of different personality traits and communication styles. This only adds to the arsenal of skills that complement her abilities as a mediator.

Kim is dedicated to using her vast knowledge and experience in dispute resolution to help individuals find peaceful resolutions in difficult situations. With empathy, understanding, and effective communication techniques, Kim strives to make every mediation process successful for all parties involved.
