

Amber is the Division Director and Lead Mediator at Pesch Law Office. In addition to her private practice, Amber has mediated for Jefferson County Mediation Services, Community Mediation Concepts, Douglas County Small Claims, and Court Mediation Services in Denver. She is an adjunct faculty member at the University of Denver teaching conflict resolution, negotiation, and research. Amber worked for conflict resolution organizations, including the Organization of American States, International Peace and Security Institute, and the Center for Peacebuilding and Development. She is a patron member of the CBA's ADR section and a professional member of the MAC. Amber earned her master's degree in International Peace and Conflict Resolution from American University.

