

Barbara Philip is a contract mediator in domestic cases with the Colorado Office of Dispute Resolution (ODR) for the 14th Judicial District in Routt and Moffat counties. She received mediation training at CDR Associates in Boulder in 1983 and mediated both privately and for CDR in the Denver area until moving to Steamboat Springs in 1993. In addition to her work as a mediator, Barbara has a private practice in psychotherapy with couples and adult individuals. She also teaches the Information for Divorcing Parents classes in Steamboat and Craig, Colorado.

Barbara has a bachelors degree from Creighton University and a masters degree in Social Work from the University of Denver. She is a member of the National Association of Social Workers.