

VOLUNTEER ATTORNEY TELEPHONE CLINIC
DENVER PROBATE COURT

Volunteer attorneys can explain estate proceedings, guardianships and conservatorships and other simple probate-related procedures. You can obtain and print forms for free from the internet at www.courts.state.co.us. You are not required to meet with an attorney prior to obtaining or purchasing forms. Forms and instructions are also available for purchase at $0.75 per page from the Denver Probate Court Clerk's Office in Room 230.

Volunteer attorneys will not provide a second opinion on your case if you already have an attorney. Volunteer attorneys do not represent you on your case. Volunteer attorneys may advise any Court user, including those with interests adverse to yours, should they seek assistance from the Volunteer Attorney Clinic. As such, your use of this program is not private or confidential. This service is designed for one conference per person, and priority may be given to people who have not already used this service and to people who are filing or have cases with the Denver Probate Court over people with cases in other districts. If you are not able to resolve the problem you have presented to the volunteer attorney today, you should consider retaining an attorney to represent you or applying for representation through an agency such as:
