DISTRICT COURT, DENVER COUNTY,
COLORADO
1437 Bannock Street
Denver, CO 80202

ERIC COOMER, Ph.D.,
Plaintiff

vs.

DONALD J. TRUMP FOR PRESIDENT,
INC., et al.,
Defendants

▲ COURT USE ONLY ▲

Attorneys for Plaintiff
Charles J. Cain, No. 51020
ccain@cstrial.com
Steve Skarnulis, No. 21PHV6401
skarnulis@cstrial.com
Bradley A. Kloewer, No. 50565
bkloewer@cstrial.com
Zachary H. Bowman, No. 21PHV6676
zbowman@cstrial.com
CAIN & SKARNULIS PLLC
P. O. Box 1064
Salida, Colorado 81201
719-530-3011/512-477-5011 (Fax)

Thomas M. Rogers III, No. 28809
trey@rklawpc.com
Mark Grueskin, No. 14621
mark@rklawpc.com
Andrew E. Ho, No. 40381
andrew@rklawpc.com
RechtKornfeld PC
1600 Stout Street, Suite 1400
Denver, Colorado 80202
303-573-1900/303-446-9400 (Fax)

Case Number: 2020cv034319

Division Courtroom: 409

EXHIBIT E-6

CONFIRMED: Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger Used Dominion's Eric Coomer as Witness for the State to Defend LAST MINUTE COMPUTER CHANGES
By Jim Hoft
Published November 24, 2020 at 9:12pm
811 Comments

Dr. Eric Coomer who is responsible for the strategy and Security at Dominion Voting Systems.

But if you search the company's profile Eric Coomer has since been removed from their page of directors.
This was after Coomer was found to be a Trump-hating Antifa sociopath.

In 2016 Coomer told the Illinois States Board of Elections that it was possible to bypass election systems software during the vote counting process.

Here is the video…

And in 2017 Eric Coomer explained how to alter votes in the Dominion Voting Systems in a Chicago demonstration.

This then is the SECOND VIDEO of top Dominion executive explaining to elections officials how to alter votes with the Dominion machines!

This was a separate demonstration in the Chicago area (notice he is wearing a dark jacket and is without the wrist protector.)

> 🤡 2017 DR. ERIC COOMER EXPLAINS HOW TO ALTER VOTES IN THE DOMINION VOTING SYSTEM
>
> 🙄 THIS SEEMS ABSOLUTELY RIPE FOR FRAUD
>
> 😈 "Don't worry about the election, Trump's not gonna win. I made fking sure of that!" – Dr. Eric Coomer VP of US Engineering for US Dominion Voting Company pic.twitter.com/dEuPIzGOlC
>
> – 🇺🇸PoliticalArtsFarm🇺🇸 (@hppyjesusfreak) November 23, 2020

Here is the video on Rumble:

Earlier today Joe Hoft at The Gateway Pundit reported on Eric Coomer's work in Georgia.

According to reports in late September Dominion's radical Leftist Eric Coomer made a "critical software change" to GA's Dominion voting machines "without adequate testing or certification from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission".

This was reported in the Atlanta Journal Constitution.

Andrew Bostom, MD, MS
@andrewbostom

In GA, during (late?) Sept, Dominion's radical Leftist Eric Coomer made a "critical software change" to GA's Dominion voting machines "without adequate testing or certification from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission". From this 9/29/20 AJC story newspapers.com/image/684956226

STATE: FIX COMING TO GEORGIA TOUCHSCREENS TO RESTORE MISSING SENATE CANDIDATES

Georgia election officials told a federal judge Monday that they'll quickly correct a problem with touchscreen voting computers that left off the names of some of the 21 candidates in a special election for the U.S. Senate.

But attorneys suing the state government said they're alarmed by technical difficulties so close to the time in-person early voting begins on Oct. 12. They want the government to replace the touchscreens with paper ballots filled out by hand.

Software on the state's 30,000-plus touchscreens will be replaced to prevent an issue where the second column of U.S. Senate candidates sometimes didn't appear. Those candidates included Republican U.S. Sen. Kelly Loeffler and Democrats Matt Lieberman, Ed Tarver and Raphael Warnock. Another Republican candidate, U.S. Rep. Doug Collins, wasn't affected because his name appeared in the first column.

"The plaintiffs are flagging this as some apocalyptic scenario on social media, and it's not. This is a very minor issue," said Bryan Tyson, an attorney for Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger.

The issue, discovered last week during pre-election equipment testing in Douglas and Richmond counties, occurred when the second column of candidates didn't appear because of a technical problem with how touchscreens communicated with their underlying Android operating system, said Eric Coomer of Dominion Voting Systems. He said the problem only happened rarely, when users made selections in a specific pattern.

David Cross, an attorney for the plaintiffs, said making a critical software change shows that the state's voting technology is vulnerable to problems.

"This is far bigger than we originally thought," Cross told U.S. District Judge Amy Totenberg. "It's hard to imagine a more concerning scenario."

He said the software upgrade is being made without adequate security testing or certification from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission. But Coomer said the change is minor and doesn't require recertification.

Election officials halted testing in the 77 counties where it had begun after they learned about the problem, said Gabriel Sterling, statewide voting system implementation manager.

New software will be distributed to county election offices on USB drives, and then they'll be responsible for installing it on touchscreens as part of the testing process. A company reviewing the new software, Pro V&V, could give its approval by Tuesday, Sterling said.

The problem with the U.S. Senate race didn't affect absentee ballots, which are already being completed and returned to election officials.

Mark Niesse,
Mark.Niesse@ajc.com

10 of 42

2:18 PM · Nov 24, 2020

♡ 7.5K   💬 301   ⬆️ Share this Tweet

Tweet your reply

Now this…

A group of Georgia attorneys sued the state after news of the last minute changes to the Dominion voting machines. They called for paper ballots to be used instead of the controversial computer voting systems.

Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger called in Dominion's Eric Commer to testify for him in the state's defense.

GovTech.com reported:

> Georgia election officials told a federal judge Monday that they'll quickly correct a problem with touchscreen voting computers that left off the names of some of the 21 candidates in a special election for the U.S. Senate.
>
> But attorneys suing the state government said they're alarmed by technical difficulties so close to the time in-person early voting begins on Oct. 12. They want the government to replace the touchscreens with paper ballots filled out by hand.

Software on the state's 30,000-plus touchscreens will be replaced to prevent an issue where the second column of U.S. Senate candidates sometimes didn't appear. Those candidates included Republican U.S. Sen. Kelly Loeffler and Democrats Matt Lieberman, Ed Tarver and Raphael Warnock. Another Republican candidate, U.S. Rep. Doug Collins, wasn't affected because his name appeared in the first column.

*"The plaintiffs are flagging this as some apocalyptic scenario on social media, and it's not. This is a very minor issue," said Bryan Tyson, an attorney for Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger.

The issue, discovered last week during pre-election equipment testing in Douglas and Richmond counties, occurred when the second column of candidates didn't appear because of a technical problem with how touchscreens communicated with their underlying Android operating system, said Eric Coomer of Dominion Voting Systems. He said the problem only happened rarely, when users made selections in a specific pattern.

David Cross, an attorney for the plaintiffs, said making a critical software change shows that the state's voting technology is vulnerable to problems.

"This is far bigger than we originally thought," Cross told U.S. District Judge Amy Totenberg. "It's hard to imagine a more concerning scenario."

He said the software upgrade is being made without adequate security testing or certification from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission. But Coomer said the change is minor and doesn't require recertification.

Election officials halted testing in the 77 counties where it had begun after they learned about the problem, said Gabriel Sterling, statewide voting system implementation manager.

Submit a Correction

Jim Hoft

| More Info | Recent Posts | Contact |

Jim Hoft is the founder and editor of The Gateway Pundit, one of the top conservative news outlets in America. Jim was awarded the Reed Irvine Accuracy in Media Award in 2013 and is the proud recipient of the Breitbart Award for Excellence in Online Journalism from the Americans for Prosperity Foundation in May 2016.

Home

About

Advertise

Privacy

Facebook

Twitter

YouTube

Terms

Contact

Gateway Pundit

Where Hope Finally Made a Comeback.