The People of the State of Colorado v. MARK ALLEN REDWINE
△ COURT USE ONLY △
Case Number: 2017CR343 Division: 1 Courtroom:
Order Denying the Motion to Continue D-102

The motion to continue the motions hearing is denied. This case is over one-year-old and this is the second time motions hearings have been scheduled in this case. The Court intends to hear as many evidentiary motions as it can during the motions hearings currently scheduled. If there are specific motions that the defense feels cannot be fairly adjudicated due to the late filing of responses or late production of discovery, the Court will listen to the arguments of counsel and decide if the hearings can proceed as scheduled. As to motions which are simply legal in nature, the Court does not intend to hold hearings upon those motions simply to allow counsel to argue unless there is a reason to do so. At the conclusion of the evidentiary hearings scheduled to begin on 12/3/18, the Court will confer with counsel as to which Shrek motions will require an evidentiary hearing as well as other motions upon which the Court desires oral argument. The Court will reschedule any hearing that cannot be heard during the two-week period of time that is currently scheduled for motions hearings.
