ORDER OF ASSIGNMENT OF FIRST DEGREE MURDER CASES REPLACING PRIOR ORDERS

This judicial district currently has a policy of rotating first degree murder cases among all of the district court judges. The initial version of the current schedule was established on October 1, 2001 and has been modified from time to time. The latest modification occurred on September 21, 2011.

A review of the present case assignments for all divisions of the district court shows that the number of civil, water, and probate cases have increased significantly since the rotation policy was implemented. The assignment of first degree murder cases among all of the district judges on a rotating basis was implemented when there were two judges assigned to hear criminal cases in the district court. There are now four district court divisions assigned to hear criminal cases and this has resulted in the increased availability of docket time in those four divisions since the rotation policy was established. The court has consulted with the other district court judges of this district and the consensus of the district court bench was that the first degree murder cases should be filed in the four district court divisions assigned to hear criminal cases, as well as Judge Hoskins' division, as she has specifically requested to remain in the rotation.

The assignment of first degree murder cases shall now be assigned on a rotating basis between the four criminal divisions and Judge Hoskins in the following order: Judge Hoskins; Judge Kopcow; Judge Kerns; Judge Quammen, Judge Lyons.

The chief judge of the district may modify the order of rotation due to special circumstances, such as judge disqualification, speedy trial requirements, case management, appointment of new judges, and for other good cause. A table showing the assignment of first degree murder cases is attached hereto. Any future modifications to the table shall be filed in Case Number 2011CV01.

In the event there is more than one defendant charged with first-degree murder involving the same victim or victims, then all such cases shall be assigned initially to the same judge.

This order replaces all previous orders for the assignment of first degree murder cases.
Order 09-11.

Dated: November 13, 2014.

James F. Hartmann
Chief Judge, 19th Judicial District
