ANSWER OF DICK WOLFE, STATE ENGINEER; DAVID NETTLES, DIVISION ENGINEER FOR WATER DIVISION 1; COLORADO DIVISION OF WATER RESOURCES; AND COLORADO DIVISION OF PARKS AND WILDLIFE

Defendants, Dick Wolfe, in his capacity as the Colorado State Engineer; David Nettles, in his capacity as Division Engineer in and for Water Division No. 1, State of Colorado; Colorado Division of Water Resources; and Colorado Division of Parks and Wildlife (also known as and referred to by Plaintiff as “Colorado Parks and Wildlife”), collectively referred to herein as Defendants, by and through the Attorney General, hereby submit their Answer to the Jim Hutton Educational Foundation’s Complaint for Declaratory Judgment Regarding Administration of Water Rights in the Republican River Basin and the Constitutionality of Senate Bill 52 (2010), and the Ground Water Management Act.

For the convenience of the Court, Defendants have repeated the titles and paragraph numbers used by Plaintiff in providing their Answer to the allegations set forth in the Complaint.

Plaintiff’s introductory paragraph to the Complaint contains Plaintiff’s characterization of its action and its requested relief and does not require a response. To the extent a response is required, the introductory paragraph is denied.

JURISDICTION

1. Defendants admit that the water judge of the district courts of all counties situated entirely or partly within a water division has exclusive jurisdiction of water matters within the division. Defendants admit that water matters include only those matters which Title 37, Article 92 and any other law specify to be heard by the water judge of the district courts. Beyond these admissions, Defendants deny the Plaintiff’s characterization of the water court’s jurisdiction.
2. Defendants admit that the water court has jurisdiction over issues ancillary to water matters as held in Crystal Lakes Water and Sewer Ass’n v. Blacklund, 980 P.2d 534 (Colo. 1995). Beyond this admission, Defendants deny the Plaintiff’s characterization of the holding in Crystal Lakes.
3. Defendants admit that at least some allegations contained in the Complaint may implicate water matters. However, Defendants deny that there has been an unlawful infringement upon any decreed water rights by Defendants or pursuant to Senate Bill 52 (2010) and/or the Colorado Ground Water Management Act.
4. Defendants admit that the Colorado Ground Water Commission (“Commission”) has jurisdiction over designated ground water pursuant to the Colorado Ground Water Management Act, § 37-90-101 et. seq., C.R.S. Defendants admit that in Gallegos v. Colorado Ground Water Comm'n, 147 P.3d 20 (Colo. 2006), the Supreme Court held that the Commission has jurisdiction over surface water rights only for the purpose of altering the boundaries of a designated ground water basin. To the extent paragraph 4 states Plaintiff's legal conclusions, no response is required. Defendants deny the Plaintiff's allegation that it is not seeking to modify the boundaries of a designated ground water basin in this action to the extent the relief requested by the Complaint may aid the Plaintiff in seeking to modify the boundaries of a designated ground water basin. Defendants admit that, on the face of the complaint, the Plaintiff is not requesting that the Water Court modify the boundaries of a designated water basin in this action.

PARTIES

5. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 5 and therefore deny the same.

6. Defendants admit that the Colorado Department of Natural Resources includes the Division of Water Resources ("DWR"), headed by the Colorado State Engineer, and that the DWR includes the Division Engineers. In further response to paragraph 6, Defendants state that sections 24-1-124(3) and (4), C.R.S., speak for themselves and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the remaining allegations.

7. Defendants admit the allegations contained in paragraph 7 except to the extent that it alleges that the State Engineer does not have or utilize discretion in the administration and distribution of waters of the State of Colorado or in complying with interstate compact obligations. In further response to paragraph 7, Defendants state that section 37-80-102(1)(a), C.R.S., speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the remaining allegations.

8. Defendants admit that the State Engineer is also the Executive Director of the Commission and a Republican River Compact Commissioner.

9. Defendants state that section 37-92-202, C.R.S., speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants admit that the Division Engineer assists in matters pertaining to the administration of water rights in Water Division No. 1, and that the Division Engineer performs administrative functions under the Water Rights Determination and Administration Act.

10. Defendants state that “Colorado Parks and Wildlife” is a commonly used reference for the Colorado Division of Parks and Wildlife (hereinafter “CPW”), a division within the Colorado Department of Natural Resources. In further response to paragraph 10, Defendant states that CPW is responsible for the management of state park and wildlife resources, including some interests in land and water in and around Bonny Reservoir, but deny any allegation that CPW is responsible for the administration of water in, or the operation of Bonny Dam and Reservoir.

WATER RIGHTS

11. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 11 and therefore deny the same.

12. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations as to whether or not the Plaintiff owns four decreed surface water rights on the South Fork of the Republican River and therefore deny the same. In response to subparagraphs A-D of paragraph 12, Defendants state:

- A. Defendants deny that the Tip Jack Ditch was decreed by the Arapahoe District Court in Civil Action No. 18172. In further response to subparagraph 12.A, Defendants state that the Tip Jack Ditch was decreed 2 c.f.s. for irrigation purposes with a priority date of February 8, 1889 by a decree entered by the Arapahoe District Court in Civil Action 18162 on December 28, 1893.
- B. The decree dated September 8, 1939 in Civil Action No. 2985 speaks for itself and no response is required. In further response to subparagraph 12.B, Defendants state that Hale Ditch was decreed Priority No. 38 for 23 c.f.s. for irrigation purposes with priority date of January 17, 1908 by the decree entered in Kit Carson County District Court Civil Action No. 2985.

in and for Water Division 1 in the decree entered in Case No. W-8667-77 dated May 24, 1978.

D. The decree dated May 24, 1978 in Case No. W-8667-77 speaks for itself and no response is required. In further response to subparagraph 12.D, Defendants state that the Hutton No. 2 was decreed 4.92 c.f.s. for irrigation with an appropriation date of July 5, 1954 by the Water Court in and for Water Division 1 in the decree entered in Case No. W-8667-77 dated May 24, 1978.

13. Defendants admit that water rights in Colorado can be vested property rights. However, Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations that the Plaintiff owns a vested property right in the Tip Jack Ditch, Hale Ditch, Hutton No. 1 Ditch and Hutton No. 2 Ditch and therefore deny the same.

14. Defendants admit the allegations contained in the first sentence of paragraph 14. Defendants state that the decree entered in Case No. W-9135-77 speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants state that the decree dated October 1, 1984 in Case No. W-9135-77 confirmed a water right claimed by the United States for Bonny Reservoir for flood control, irrigation, recreation, fish and wildlife propagation with a December 3, 1948 date of appropriation.

15. Defendants admit that Bonny Reservoir and Bonny Dam are located upstream of the Hutton Ranch, but are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegation that Bonny Reservoir and Dam impact the Foundation's Tip Jack Ditch and Hale Ditch in various ways, and therefore deny the same. In response to subparagraphs A-B of paragraph 15, Defendants state:

A. Defendants admit that the original diversion point for the Tip Jack Ditch was destroyed by Bonny Reservoir dam. Defendants admit that the diversion point of the Tip Jack Ditch was moved downstream to one different location. In further response to subparagraph 15.A, Defendants state that the Amended Map of the Tip Jack Ditch dated February 5, 1950, the decree entered in Case No. W-8667-77, the Map of the Roscoe Hutton Irrigation System dated January 3, 1955, and the order of the Water Court, Division No. 1, in Case No. 12CW111 speak for themselves and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants state that the decree entered in Case No. W-8667-77 decreed an amended diversion point for the Tip Jack Ditch consistent with the point described in the Amended Map of the Tip Jack Ditch and Defendants deny that the current location of the Tip Jack Ditch point of diversion was described on the Map of the Roscoe Hutton Irrigation System and that such point was recognized by the Water Court in Case No. 12CW111.

B. Defendants admit the allegations in subparagraph 15.B.

16. The Water Contract speaks for itself and therefore no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in paragraph 16 to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Water Contract.

17. The Water Contract speaks for itself, and therefore no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Water Contract. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the remaining allegations in paragraph 17 and therefore deny the same.

18. The Land Contract speaks for itself, and therefore no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Land Contract.

19. The Land Contract and the Bonny Reservoir operating plan speak for themselves, and therefore no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Land Contract and the Bonny Reservoir operating plan.

20. The Water Contract and Land Contract speak for themselves and therefore no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Water Contract and Land Contract. Paragraph 20 also states Plaintiff's legal conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations contained in paragraph 20.

COMPACT COMPLIANCE AND GROUND WATER DEPLETIONS

21. The Republican River Compact of 1942 speaks for itself and therefore no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants admit that the Republican River Compact is codified at section 37-67-101, C.R.S., and is among the states of Colorado, Kansas, and Nebraska but deny the remaining allegations of paragraph 21.

22. Defendants admit the original water rights for the Tip Jack Ditch and Hale Ditch priority no. 38 have appropriation dates before the Compact and the original water rights for the Hutton No. 1 Ditch and the Hutton No. 2 Ditch have appropriation dates after the Compact.

23. Defendants admit that the Ground Water Management Act was enacted in 1965 and that it empowers the Ground Water Commission to establish designated ground water basins. Defendants admit that the appropriation dates for the Hutton No. 1, Hutton No. 2, Tip Jack Ditch, and Hale Ditch Priority No. 38 water rights are prior to the Ground Water Management Act, but are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the remaining allegations of paragraph 23 and therefore deny the same.

24. Defendants admit that the Ground Water Commission created the Northern High Plains Designated Ground Water Basin (“NHP Basin”) in 1965. The NHP Basin designation order speaks for itself and therefore no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations to the extent they may be inconsistent with the NHP Basin designation order.

25. Defendants deny that the NHP Basin covers the areal extent of the Ogallala aquifer in Colorado. Defendants admit that the NHP Basin includes the entirety of the Republican River basin and its tributaries in Colorado, including the South Fork of the Republican River.

26. The allegations contained in paragraph 26 are vague and therefore Defendants deny the same. To the extent Defendants can respond to any of the allegations in paragraph 26, Defendants admit that the number of wells and the amount of water pumped within the NHP Basin increased in the 1960s and 1970s. Defendants admit that there are currently approximately 3,461 permitted active high capacity wells in the NHP Basin.

27. The allegations contained in paragraph 27 are vague and therefore Defendants deny the same. However, Defendants admit that some high capacity irrigation wells within the NHP Basin have been retired, but other wells in the NHP Basin continue to pump ground water.

28. The allegations contained in paragraph 28 are vague and Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 28 and therefore deny the same.

29. The allegations contained in paragraph 29 are vague and Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in paragraph 29 and therefore deny the same.

Defendants admit that the state of Colorado was formally joined as a party to this Compact litigation.

31. Defendants admit that the Special Master for the United States Supreme Court (“Special Master”) heard argument regarding whether stream depletions due to groundwater use were intended to be included in the Compact allocations of the virgin water supply. In response to the second sentence of 31, Defendants state that the Special Master’s ruling speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Special Master’s ruling.

32. The Special Master’s ruling speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations contained in paragraph 32 to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Special Master’s ruling.

33. The settlement stipulation between Colorado, Kansas, and Nebraska speaks for itself and no response is required. The United States Supreme Court decision regarding said settlement stipulation speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations contained in paragraph 33.

34. The RRCA Ground Water Model speaks for itself and no response is required. The Special Master’s final report speaks for itself and no response is required. The United States Supreme Court ruling dated October 20, 2003 speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations contained in paragraph 34 to the extent they may be inconsistent with the Special Master’s final report or the United States Supreme Court ruling.

35. The results of the annual runs of the RRCA Ground Water Model speak for themselves and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations contained in paragraph 35 to the extent they may be inconsistent with the RRCA Ground Water Model and the results of annual runs.

36. The results of the 1981-2000 annual runs of the RRCA Ground Water Model are Appendix U to the Special Master's final report and speak for themselves and no response is required. In further response to paragraph 36, Defendants state that the RRCA Ground Water Model was "received and ordered filed" by the United States Supreme Court. Defendants further state that the Special Master's final report shows that ground water previously pumped in the NHP Basin in Colorado caused delayed depletions to surface water in the Republican River and its tributaries by an average annual amount of 21,330 acre-feet and approximately 9,595 acre-feet of those delayed depletions occurred to the South Fork of the Republican River. To the extent any further response is required, Defendants deny the remaining allegations.

37. The results of the annual runs of the RRCA Ground Water Model speak for themselves and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegation.

38. Defendants admit that RRCA Ground Water Model runs have continued since 2003 and that the Republican River Compact Administration ("RRCA") approved RRCA Ground Water Model Runs annually through the year 2007. In further response to paragraph 38, Defendants state that the results of the 2007 run of the Model speak for themselves and no response is required. Defendants further state that the 2007 annual run shows that ground water previously pumped in the NHP Basin in Colorado caused delayed depletions to surface water in the Republican River and its tributaries by an average annual amount of 26,847 acre-feet and approximately 11,240 acre-feet of those delayed depletions occurred to the South Fork of the Republican River. To the extent any further response is required, Defendants deny the remaining allegations.

ACTIONS TAKEN BY DEFENDANTS TO ADDRESS THE COMPACT SHORTFALL

42. Defendants admit that in 2007 the State Engineer prepared draft rules and regulations which would control well curtailment in the NHP Basin and that such rules and regulations were not adopted and are not currently being pursued.

43. In response to the first sentence of paragraph 43, Defendants state that while numerous wells have been voluntarily retired for Compact compliance purposes, wells within the NHP Basin are not currently being curtailed for the purpose of Colorado's Compact compliance. In response to the second sentence of paragraph 43, Defendants deny that the only regulation of wells within the NHP Basin pertains to measurement and enforcing permit limits.

44. Defendants admit that a ground water pipeline that was approved by the Republican River Water Conservation District in 2009 is intended to supply pumped designated ground water to the North Fork of the Republican River near the Colorado-Nebraska state line, and that the pipeline operated in 2014 based on a temporary approval by the RRCA but has not been permanently approved by the RRCA. In response to the third sentence of paragraph 44, Defendants state that the administrative call remained in effect during 2014.

45. In response to paragraph 45, Defendants state that the State Engineer ordered the Bureau of Reclamation to drain Bonny Reservoir by written order in 2011 because the water stored therein was stored out of priority. In further response to the allegations contained in paragraph 45, Defendants state that in 2007 the State Engineer coordinated releases of water stored out of priority from Bonny Reservoir. Defendants further state that releases of out of priority water stored in Bonny Reservoir between 2007 and 2011 had the added effect of potentially benefiting Colorado's rights and obligations to the Republican River Basin. In further response to the third sentence of paragraph 45, Defendants admit that full active storage in Bonny Reservoir was drained in 2011.

46. Paragraph 46 states Plaintiff's legal conclusions and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants admit that the Bureau of Reclamation approved the construction of Bonny Reservoir principally for flood control purposes and that the decree for the Bonny Reservoir water right states the uses of the water right as flood control and irrigation, recreation, fish, and wildlife propagation.

47. Paragraph 47 states Plaintiff's legal conclusions and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations contained in paragraph 47. In further response to the allegations of paragraph 47, Defendants deny that any water lawfully stored in Bonny Reservoir was ordered released for Compact compliance purposes.

48. Defendants deny that beginning in 2010, the Engineers began to implement a 1942 administrative call in order to help achieve Compact compliance. In further response to paragraph 48, Defendants state that, beginning in 2008, the Division Engineer began to implement a 1942 administrative call on the Republican River and its tributaries to help achieve Compact compliance. Defendants further state that such administration affected surface water rights and not NHP Basin ground water rights and that the majority of wells within the NHP Basin were constructed after 1942, but deny the remaining allegations in the second sentence of paragraph 48. Defendants deny the allegation of the third sentence of paragraph 48 that the Engineers maintain they have no authority to administer wells within the NHP Basin for Compact compliance due to the Ground Water Management Act.

49. Defendants admit the allegations contained in paragraph 49.

50. Defendants admit that the Tip Jack Ditch, Hutton Ditch No. 1, and Hutton Ditch No. 2 water rights were included on the 2010 abandonment list for Water Division No. 1. In response to the second sentence of paragraph 50, Defendants admit that the Plaintiff successfully protested the inclusion of the Hutton Ditch No. 1 and Hutton Ditch No. 2 water rights but deny that the Plaintiff successfully protested the inclusion of the Tip Jack Ditch water right.

51. In response to the allegation in the first sentence of paragraph 51, Defendants state that the Water Court's Order dated December 16, 2013 in Case No. 12CW111 speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 51. In response to the allegations in the second sentence of paragraph 51, Defendants state that they are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 51 and therefore deny the same.

52. The allegations contained in paragraph 52 are misleading and incomplete and therefore Defendants deny the same. To the extent a response is required, Defendants admit that the DWR issued an order in 2011 prohibiting the Foundation from irrigating some lands under the Hale Ditch, but deny that DWR claimed in that order that irrigation of historically irrigated lands was unlawful.

53. In response to the allegations of paragraph 53, Defendants state that the Order of the Water Court in Case No. 11CW186 dated December 16, 2013 speaks for itself and no response is required. To the extent any response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in paragraph 53.

INJURY TO FOUNDATION FROM DEFENDANTS' ACTIONS AND INACTIONS

54. Defendants admit that the Plaintiff's lessee, John Cure, placed a call for Plaintiff's Hale Ditch water rights on March 27, 2014. In response to the remaining allegations of paragraph 54, Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of those allegations and therefore deny the same.

55. Defendants deny that to achieve some elevation in the water level in Bonny Reservoir as needed to deliver water to the Hale Ditch, the 72-hour temporary storage rule was invoked by the Engineers to allow a fluctuating level of storage in Bonny Reservoir to deliver some water to the Hale Ditch.

56. In response to the allegations contained in paragraph 56, Defendants state that the canal gate to the Hale Ditch was opened on April 8, 2014 and closed on November 7, 2014. Defendants further state that they are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in paragraph 56 and therefore deny the same.

57. Defendants admit that on November 3, 2014 the Division Engineer for Water Division 1 ordered the Hale Ditch outlet within Bonny Dam to be closed based on hard freezes in the area of the Hale Ditch. Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegation in the second sentence of paragraph 57 that wells within the NHP Basin were typically pumping on November 3 for any reason and therefore deny the same.
